

To whom it may concern,

I have just finished a degree in Computer Science and I am ready to put myself out into the industry. During my studies, I have created excellent foundations in many areas of software development, from low-level languages like assembly and C to higher-level languages like C#.NET and Javascript. This has given me an excellent grasp of programming concepts and a good understanding of the methods needed to solve problems in development quickly and efficiently. I have experience working in team environments to achieve shared goals and believe I will be a good fit for your team. I am highly social and can communicate effectively and efficiently with anyone. I am not afraid to ask questions and I look forward to the opportunity to develop my skills and learn as much as I can with your company.

I'm very excited to get out into the industry and do some good work with some good people, I'm looking forward to your response.

Kind regards,
Scott Smith
